Women's Conference to Feature Joan Lunden

South Windsor, CT—Registration is under way for the third annual Greater Hartford Women's Conference (GHWC), which will feature former Good Morning America co-host Joan Lunden, author and humorist Gina Barreca, and Kara Sundlun of WFSB-TV3.

The conference, which is a program of the South Windsor Chamber of Commerce and presented by Signature Sponsor Eastern Connecticut Health Network (ECHN), will be held on Wednesday, April 28, 2010 at Maneeley's Banquet and Conference Center in South Windsor. The GHWC brings together women of all ages and from all walks of life for a day of professional development, education and networking.

"This truly is a day for women to focus on their goals and dreams. Our theme is Reach and we are hoping that every participant discovers at least one new thing that she wants to reach for in her life. We have a dynamic program with speakers and workshop presenters who will both inspire and share ideas that women can take away with them," explains Mona Lee, GHWC co-chair and founder and branch manager, South Windsor and Tolland offices, Savings Institute Bank and Trust Co.

Participants will be able to attend two of eight workshops that focus on business, health, finance, and personal development. Early registration is $129 for the day's events, which include two panel discussions, guest speakers, workshops, breakfast, lunch, refreshments, and exhibitors. After March 31, registration is $149. Table of 10 is $1,200 until March 31. Register by March 1 to be entered in a drawing to attend Joan Lunden's four-day summer camp for women.
